What Susan Saw.
A chambermaid at the Palmer House
yesterday thought she saw snakes, lizards,
turtles, scorpions, lizards and all manner of things that creep and crawl and bite and sting.

In the fleeting moment that elapsed between the time she saw the vile crawling things and the screams that she let go, string and all, she thought she saw the doors of Keeley's open to receive her,
and conscious of her own abominableness and uncleanliness she believed the curse had come to her from the third or fourth generation gone.

The door had closed behind her, and she was well into the center of the room, near the bed, when a snake glided across the floor and disappeared under it. Then a lizard and a big beetle barred her passage to the door. Next a big turtle, on its back, opened its jaws, as she thought,
violently, and puffed the air in a vain
effort to get upon its feet.

What was she doing all this time?
Why, she was standing in the middle of the floor, every man-departing I save the vocal ones. A locomotive footling from a cow to get off the track was behind the distance pole when Susan let loose a yell. Then there was a fall, a squirm, a gurgle and all was still, while the bugs entwined themselves in her hair and the snakes bared her cheeks with their forked tongues.

Now was the appointed time for the rescuer to come, and he came. He picked up the reptiles and the bugs and the rats, and unwinding them threw them like dead things upon the bed.
The cause of all this trouble was Mr.
Dick Trumbull, a traveler for a New York toy house. He had had a customer in his room, and for his benefit had set the machinery inside the varnished going, and it had not run down when he escorted his visitor down stairs. Then Susan came in.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

this form, "Allegany," which makes it

AN INTERESTING ADDRESS.

In response to the invitation of the Board of Directors Hon. Francis G. Newlands delivered the annual address at the State Fair of the State Agricultural Society. The Journal then promised that the address, which had been taken down in short hand, should be written out and published in full in its columns, but the pressure of political matter excluded it for the time being. The address contains many valuable suggestions relative to irrigation and other matters of public interest. There is a whole volume in the idea of changing the lakes or sinks from the mouths to the heads of the rivers. Then the waters which now run to waste and evaporate could be utilized in the reclamation of lands which only require moisture to make them as productive as any on the continent.

That earnest endeavor should be made to secure National aid for establishing a system of irrigation all will concede, but it will be difficult to get Congress to make adequate, or, in fact, any appropriation, for the purpose. The farmers of the Mississippi Valley think it would be encouraging competition in the production of wheat and corn to reclaim the lands of the arid area and will, therefore, for the present at least, oppose the granting of Governmental aid for irrigating those lands.

As Mr. Newlands suggests, the State might take the initiative in establishing a system of water storage, and possibly the school fund might be judiciously invested in the enterprise. As the Legislature is to convene shortly practical suggestions as to the method of procedure would now be in order as the project is one of great importance. Where in the State should the work of reclamation begin? How much of the school fund should be expended in making surveys, building reservoirs, ditches, etc., and under whose direction should the expenditure be made? Conceding that there are eligible cities for storage reservoirs on each and all of the principal streams of the State, and that there is plenty of land on which water so stored can be utilized contiguous to each stream, in what way shall the Legislature determine a choice of locations on which to expend the school fund? Would it be advisable to make a general law authorizing the loaning of school moneys to counties or irrigation districts complying with certain conditions, and let the expenditure be made under the direction of Commissioners selected for the purpose by the county or irrigation district? It will be some weeks yet before the Legislature convenes and the subject can be generally discussed in that time and perhaps much light thrown upon it if the people will devote some thought to it and embody their thoughts as concisely as possible in communications to the press. The columns of the JOURNAL are at the service of the public for practical suggestions on this interesting and important question.

STATE ELECTION RETURNS

The returns from the several counties in Nevada of the votes polled at the November election show that the Weaver electors received an average of 7,260 votes each, the Harrison electors an average of 2,800; the Cleveland electors an average of 704; and the Bidwell electors an average of 84 votes. This gives the Weaver electors a plurality of 4,465, and a clear majority over all of 3,775.

For Congressman Francis G. Newlands, Silver party candidate, received 7,153 votes; William Woodburn, Republican, received 2,295 votes; J. C. Hagerman, Democrat, received 553 votes; and C. H. Gardner, Prohibitionist, received 86 votes, giving Newlands a plurality of 4,858, and a majority over all of 4,430.

For Supreme Judge C. H. Belknap received 7,482 votes and was elected without opposition.

For Regents of the State University, short term, Kinkaid, Republican, received 2,638 votes; Douglass, Democrat, received 786 votes; and Mack, Silver party, 5,865 votes, giving Mack a plurality of 3,182 and a majority over all of 2,396.

For University Regent, long term, Rule, Republican, received 2,700 votes; Lemmon, Democrat, 714 votes; and Fish, Silver party, 6,331 votes, giving Fish a plurality of 3,617, and a majority over all of 2,617.

These majorities are unprecedented in the history of Nevada. The people had made up their minds that they had been duped long enough by the old parties and resolved to rebuke their leaders as severely as they could at the ballot box. Almost everybody who had affiliated with the Democratic party and two-thirds of those who had been Republicans joined the popular party and left only the machine element of the old parties, and those whom that element could control, to maintain the organizations. Never since the breaking out of the war was there such a political revolution in a State as that which occurred in Nevada in 1892. The best elements of the old parties, those who place principle above spoils, united and created a political cyclone which swept the State from the Owyhee to the Colorado and from the Sierra Nevada to Mormonism, electing almost every candidate from Congressman to Constable.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS

Almost a Panic on Board the Spreck.
LONDON, Dec. 3.—The steamer Spreck which was over due at New York arrived at Queenstown to-day under tow. She broke down at sea. The main shaft was broken early on the morning of November 28th and before the engines could be stopped the broken shaft pounded out a portion of the stern and part of the machinery went through the bottom under the second cabin which immediately filled with water. The passengers thought the vessel was going to the bottom and rushed on deck. For a time a veritable panic prevailed and the officers were helpless to calm the terrified passengers. Water could be heard rushing in the hole in the bottom and in a short time the vessel began to settle. The wildest confusion ensued, but when it was discovered that the vessel was not immediately going to the bottom a semblance of order was resumed. Nevertheless the passengers were anxious and kept the life preservers close at hand. The boat was cruised and piped to stations and everything placed in readiness for the abandonment of the vessel. It was soon found, however, that the water tight bulkheads were answering the purpose for which they were constructed and though water was pouring into the compartments beneath the second cabin but very little was reaching other parts of the vessel. When the accident occurred the Spreck was about a thousand miles from Queenstown. Two anxious days passed and the Lake Huron took the disabled vessel into tow on the 27th. There were 283 passengers on board, among them General Howard of the U. S. Army and Dwight L. Moody, the evangelist. A second-class passenger named Paul Nelson was so badly frightened after the accident that he jumped overboard and was drowned.

Scarcity of Fresh Meat in San Francisco.
SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 3.—A great scarcity of fresh meat in the market has been one of the results of the protracted storm and the stock of live cattle has been so generally reduced, that the prospect of a serious curtailment in the consumption and a material advance in prices is being seriously considered. Already some of the slaughterers in Butcher town have been compelled to shut down their slaughter houses in consequence of a dearth of live stock, and the available supply of cattle, sheep and hogs in this and adjacent markets has been so reduced that many others must cease killing unless the supply is increased. Reports from interior points of shipment indicate a serious state of affairs. Wagon roads are all but impassable. Inquiries at the retail markets confirm the expectations of a general advance in prices, consequent upon the expected short supplies. All depend upon the immediate cessation of the prevailing storm.

A Forger Arrested.
LEVERMORE, Cal., Dec. 3.—A man named J. F. Loufo in the employ of John S. Collins near Altamont recently managed to get a couple of Wilk, Fargo & Co.'s money order blanks and made out an order for $35.50, payable to Frank Warner, forging the name of T. A. Proctor, the company's agent at Santa Rosa, to the order. He cashed it on the 7th and returned to Altamont, J. K. Duncan, a route agent of the company, first discovered the forgery. The case was placed in the hands of Detective Hume, who traced it to Loufo and arrested him. He was taken to Oakland and placed in the county jail. On being questioned closely he finally made a full confession, giving as his reason that he needed the money.

The Immigration Report.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—The annual report of W. D. Owen, Superintendent of Immigration shows that 573,063 immigrants arrived in the country during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1892; 2,301 were returned who came in violation of the law. Of this number 1,763 were contract laborers. The law adopted March 3, 1891, the report says, exercised a wholesome and deterrent effect upon immigration, especially upon undesirable reprobates. The character of immigrants arriving during the past year was greatly superior to that of many previous years.

Fallon Pardoned.
SACRAMENTO, Dec. 3.—Governor Markham has granted a pardon to Wm. Fallon, sentenced in San Francisco in August, 1890, to serve four years in the county jail. Fallon's crime was attempting to learn the contents of telegrams being sent on the wires. Fallon was a victim of the pool-room craze at San Francisco, and made an attempt to cut the wires for the purpose of fleecing the pool-rooms out of money to win back the amount which he claimed they had robbed him of. Fallon's previous standing is vouched for by a number of business men in San Francisco.

Endeavoring to Count Pierce Out.
SALEM, Or., Dec. 3.—Mandamus proceedings were commenced this afternoon before Judge Burnett to prevent the Secretary of State from counting the vote of Pierce, the Populist-Democrat Elector, in counties in which his name appeared twice on the official ballots, and to command Governor Penney to issue a certificate of election to Harry B. Miller, the Republican Elector. The Judge ordered the writ to issue and the order was made for the Governor and Secretary to comply with the prayer of the petitioners or show cause this evening for not doing so.

Immigration the Lion in the Path.
BALTIMORE, Dec. 3.—At the annual meeting of the National Prison Association held in this city to-day, ex-President Hayes delivered a very interesting address, reviewing the work of the society and the growth of crime through immigration. He said in part: "The prime object of a true prison reformer is the protection of society and individuals by the prevention of crime. The training of the young is most indispensable, but the chief business of every generation. But, plainly, immigration, as it exists to-day, is the lion in the path of the progress of America."

The Pinkertons Make a Statement.
NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—At the request of the United States Senate Investigation Committee, Robert A. and William A. Pinkerton prepared a statement in connection with their testimony before the committee as to the nature of their business and the occurrences at Homestead on July 6, 1892. The statement was given to the press to-night and contained about 12,000 words.

The Verdi Amateur Dramatic Club will give its first entertainment at that place on Friday evening, December 9th. The Dramatic Club is composed of Verdi's foremost and brightest people, and the performance is given more for sociability sake than to a financial end. By an advertisement in another column it will be seen that the people of Reno are cordially invited to attend, and those who go are certain of spending an enjoyable evening, for the Varieties are noted for their sociability. A social dance will follow the performance, and in order to defray expenses an admission fee of 50 cents will be charged.

Riverside Social Club Reorganized.

For Bronchitis
"I never realized the good of a medicine so much as I have in the last few months, during which time I have suffered intensely from pneumonia, followed by bronchitis. After trying various remedies without benefit, I began the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and the effect has been marvelous, a single dose relieving me of coughing, and securing a good night's rest."—T. A. Higginbotham, Gen. Store, Long Mountain, Va.

La Grippe
"Last Spring I was taken down with la grippe. At times I was completely prostrated, and so difficult was my breathing that my breath seemed as if confined in an iron cage. I procured a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and no sooner had I begun taking it than relief followed. I could not believe that the effect would be so rapid."—W. H. Williams, Cook City, B. Dak.

Lung Trouble
"For more than twenty-five years, I was a sufferer from lung trouble, attended with coughing so severe at times as to cause hemorrhage, the paroxysms frequently lasting three or four hours. I was induced to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and after taking four bottles, was thoroughly cured. I can confidently recommend this medicine."—Franz Hofmann, Clay Centre, Kans.

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral
Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all Druggists. Price $1; six bottles, $5. Prompt to act, sure to cure.

THE MRS. CASSIDY FUND.

Several Counties Not Yet Heard From.
The Silver State says: "The total amount received by G. S. Nixon for Mrs. G. W. Cassidy is $1,305 50. It is deposited in the First National Bank of Winnemucca in her name and subject to her order. It is to be hoped that more can be collected, as that is a small amount, taking into consideration that $500 of it was contributed by Hon. Francis G. Newlands."

"Several counties have not sent in anything and others very small amounts. The amount received thus far has come principally from Washoe, White Pine, Nye and Humboldt. The newspapers of the State should wake up, now that the election is over, and see if a larger fund cannot be raised. Two thousand dollars is the least that it should be stopped at."

A list of all the subscribers to the Mrs. Cassidy fund in this county has been posted by Mr. Ryland in the JOURNAL business office, where all interested can see it.
